

Galaxy is the only time in a week where I actually go out and socialise with everyone. The atmosphere is amazing and everyone is so friendly with each other, no matter the circumstances. The best thing about Galaxy is the brilliant staff that are always listening when you want to discuss problems and they're always there listening when you want to share with them your best achievements and experiences.

To me, Galaxy means a safe happy place where I can be myself, I don't have to hide from anyone. When you're at Galaxy, you are supported no matter who you love. We at Galaxy are like one big family and we are there for each other, everyone is welcome with open arms. If you need some friends to talk to who understand your situation, come to Galaxy.

Galaxy is literally my whole life and existence. My personality is very strange and childish, so most of the time, I can't be myself but at Galaxy I can be as silly and childish as I want to be due to the accepting environment. I knew I liked girls when I came here, but I didn't know I was non-binary. After coming to Galaxy and meeting transgender people and talking to them, I found myself on a journey of thinking I was a boy to finding out I was actually genderless. I'm so glad I came here because now I love myself.

A place where I feel accepted and supported. Galaxy helps me because it allows me to know that I'm not alone and that it's okay to be who I am. This place has helped me when I needed it most and still does to this day. Coming here has made my life better when I did not think it was possible.

I feel like Galaxy is a place that I can meet new people who are just like me. I enjoy coming to Galaxy - I feel more confident and I feel I can be myself.
